Levees Protecting City Threatened by Crest of Flood.

Gov. Dunne Rushes Seventh Regiment of the National Guard from Chicago to Southern Illinois and Sixty Engineers of Naval Reserves Take Six Power Boats to Inundated City—Kentucky Towns Isolated.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) March 31.—At midnight Gov. Dunne received word that telegraphic communication with Cairo had been cut off. The Governor fears that the breaking of communication means that the levee has collapsed. He is directing personally the mobilization of troops and the rushing of supplies. Trainloads of persons left Cairo early today. R. T. Lindley, the local weather forecaster, issued a statement, saying: "As a prudential measure, it is advisable that women, children and the infirm seek more secure refuge."

Illinois threatens to become the center of flood distress, according to the startling messages received by Gov. Dunne and Adj. Gen. Dickson. Shawneetown and Cairo are in imminent danger of being inundated. Other towns are in distress.

Bernard Lamb of Junction, Gallatin county, has wired for 100 tents for refugees. E. C. Fletcher of Mounds has wired for fifty tents for homeless people there.

The Seventh Regiment, Illinois National Guard, was ordered out by Gov. Dunne. The Governor already had ordered five down-State companies to Cairo.

Adj. Gen. Dickson and Col. S. O. Tripp will leave early tomorrow for Cairo to take charge of the troops there. Many of the residents of Shawneetown have moved to the hills back of the town, but a break in the levee would cause heavy loss.

Ten thousand army rations were sent to Cairo by express tonight and should reach there some time tomorrow, if the way is open.

Berlin Physician Inoculated Three Hundred and Fifty Babies Before They Were Three Days Old—Asserts that There Were No Ill Effects in Eighteen Months.

(BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 30.—(Special Dispatch.) Dr. Friedmann took advantage of his inactivity today to impress upon those who called on him, the point in his work which he considers the most vital. That is the property of his tuberculosis cure, by the use of which he claims to be able to make the coming generation immune from the white plague.

The specialist from Berlin becomes very enthusiastic when he talks about the value of his preparation to newborn babies. He tells of the 350 which he treated in Berlin before they were three days old. This happened eighteen months or more ago and in that time, he says, there have been no developments of disease or any untoward effects from the injections.

Those who talk with Dr. Friedmann get the impression that if he would follow his inclinations he would devote his entire attention to the immunizing of infants. That, he says, is the only sure means of ridding the world of the white plague.

Dr. Friedmann has not had an opportunity here to test his culture as an immunizing agent.

New Tribunal in Chicago Opens Tomorrow to Deal With Questions Affecting Windy City.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 30.—(Special Dispatch.) Plans and policies of the new tribunal which is to be opened next Tuesday were outlined by Chief Justice Olson today. Among the policies will be the discouragement of audiences by making hearings as private as possible, no publicity as to individuals, especially as to innocent women and girls, the suppression of information regarding conditions when they are not deemed necessary for public enlightenment and the discouragement of professional bondsmen.

The court will hear all cases which have to do with the violation of ordinances regarding morals and the provision of information regarding conditions when they are not deemed necessary for public enlightenment and the discouragement of professional bondsmen.

UNITE TO FIGHT DISEASE IN CENTRAL INDIANA.

Medical Forces Hope to Successfully Combat Pestilence Which Threatens to Follow in Wake of the Flood and Will Extend Every Possible Aid to the People to Clear Their Homes of Filth.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

INDIANAPOLIS, March 30.—Central Indiana is summoning its medical forces to fight disease which is following in the wake of the flood which swept that section last week. Scores of persons of all walks of life have been huddled for days in small huts and buildings. They have been forced to live like sheep and a pestilence is feared.

Thousands of persons will continue to be homeless until their residences have been cleaned of the filth left by the receding waters. A majority of these refugees have no clothing except what they wore when the flood descended.

ANTICIPATE TROUBLE.

The cities along the Ohio River are preparing for the worst flood of their existence. Already residents have been driven from the bottom lands and the property damage runs into the millions. The water still is rising and the crest of the flood is four days away. Railroad communication with these cities has been cut off from the north.

Lawrenceburg, where the levee broke Saturday, is under seven feet of water. Water covers the first floors of the High School and Court-house, where 400 persons are marooned.

LEVEE BREAKS.

The whistle at the Lawrenceburg roller mills warned the residents of the town that the levee had broken. In a few minutes a wall of water, thirty feet high, swept through the town. Sixty houses near the break were crushed and carried away. That no lives were lost seems a miracle. National Guardsmen in command of Maj. Glimmer are in charge of the Troops of Allies Die at Their Posts During the Siege of Adrianople.

(By Cable and A. P. to The Times.)
BELGRADE, March 30.—One of the wounded officers who arrived here today said: "The siege was an unbroken chain of suffering for the besiegers, which reached its climax in the bitter cold of January and February. The snow lay six feet deep and sentries died at their posts. The skin of every soldier was parched by the intense frost, while in the trenches the men's feet were cut by the sharp ice breaking every morning under their steps. They slept in mud and water, covered only by canvas. On some days dozens of men were frozen to death. There were many deaths for twenty miles around; no wood could be found and even when it was brought, fires were forbidden so as not to betray our positions."

All officers agree on the terrible losses sustained in the final attack. The fourth battalion of the Ninth Infantry lost 30 per cent. of its men, which was about the average for the regiments which attacked the important forts.

METHODIST BISHOP DESCRIBES TRYING EXPERIENCE.

Bridges Crash Down as Train Goes Over Them; He Is Marooned Three Days in Union City; Meets Big Blizzard, but Finally Arrives in Boston All Right.

(BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.)

BOSTON, March 30.—(Special Dispatch.) "I am the first person to reach Boston through the flooded western region of the country. My trip was a series of horrors and mishaps," declared Bishop Herbert Kingsolving of Texas, today. The bishop came from Texas to attend the funeral of his brother-in-law, Bishop Jagger. He arrived here too late for the services, but preached in St. Paul's Cathedral today in place of Bishop Vincent of Ohio. Bishop Vincent telegraphed he was needed in stricken Ohio and would not be able to come to Boston.

"I left Waco, Tex., Sunday afternoon after the Easter services," said Bishop Kingsolving. Before we were out of the State the wind began to blow and it increased until it was like a hurricane. When we reached Kansas we rode into a sandstorm with the wind blowing like seven furies. "Fanning through Missouri, we struck the tail end of the cyclone, which had just devastated the country. It was a magnificent display of the powers of nature."

RAINING IN ST. LOUIS.

"We reached St. Louis Monday night. It was raining torrents, but I decided to continue my journey and took the Big Four that night. Tuesday morning just after dawn I looked out of the Pullman and saw the water had risen rapidly during the night. I heard of the devastation that had taken place when we reached Indianapolis. The train had passed through Muncie, Ind., and over a large bridge. Scarcely had we cleared it when with a crash, it went down and was carried away. Just before we reached the region between Ohio and Indiana the bridge over the Miami collapsed ahead of us. We pulled in to Union City and there we were marooned for three days."

MEETS BIG BLIZZARD.

"To add to the general discomfort a great blizzard came up. This was the first snow I had seen in three years. Texas is God's country—we don't have ice and snow the property of Pullman."

"Everywhere I saw houses under water and people hanging out of upper windows. Their sufferings from cold and hunger were intense. I was none too comfortable myself in a Pullman."

"Finally we got under way again. We were switched to Bellefontaine, thence to Toledo and Cleveland. All the way we bumped over tracks that were submerged in water for miles."

HUNTINGTON FACES

A DOUBLE FAMINE.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

HUNTINGTON (W. Va.) March 30.—(Via telephone to Pittsburgh.) This city is in total darkness tonight and is facing both a food and water famine with 15,000 of the 40,000 inhabitants homeless. Twelve persons are reported missing and the property damage is estimated at $1,000,000. The river reached a stage of 62.2 feet this afternoon, the highest in the history of Huntington, and now is stationary. The entire business section is inundated.

Gov. H. D. Hatfield arrived tonight from Charleston bringing supplies of motorboats and skiffs. The boats now are being taken through the different sections of the city by militiamen to rescue hundreds who are marooned. The electric light plant has been forced to shut down and this afternoon the gas supply was cut off to prevent fires.

William Sullivan, whose wife and children were rescued Saturday, committed suicide by taking poison when he found that rescuers could not reach him.

J. P. MORGAN IS SINKING.

That Death Is Nigh Is Intimation.

Change Over Night Startles Noted New York Nerve Specialist.

Doctors Hold Out Little Hope and Express Gravest Apprehension.

Pulse Steadily Grows Weaker and the Patient Lies in Silent Stupor.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

ROME, March 30.—J. P. Morgan is in a most critical condition. This was the official announcement made today by the attending physicians. He has been unable to take any nourishment for several days and his weakness has given rise to the gravest apprehension. Up to Saturday night, Mr. Morgan's son-in-law, Herbert L. Satterlee, and the physicians made every effort to conceal Mr. Morgan's true condition. The bulletin issued tonight, however, indicates that the worst is to be feared unless a reaction speedily sets in.

Dr. M. Allen Bastianelli, a noted nerve specialist, was summoned from Naples. Dr. Starr already had made an examination of Mr. Morgan. He reached here last night and has visited Mr. Morgan three times since then. Prof. Giuseppe Bastianelli and Dr. George A. Dixon also were in attendance. The physicians who are in complete accord on the diagnosis, issued the following bulletin:

"A week ago Mr. Morgan was persuaded to go to bed and remain there to conserve his strength. Until Wednesday afternoon he did not sleep very well without the aid of drugs, but took a satisfactory amount of nourishment."

LOSERS STRENGTH RAPIDLY.

"Wednesday afternoon he began to refuse food, and since then it has been impossible to nourish him. He has lost weight and strength very rapidly. His nervous system is suffering from this and it has added to the strain seriously."

"Mr. Morgan has not developed any organic trouble, but is an exceedingly weak that his present condition must be considered most critical."

(Signed) "G. BASTIANELLI," "M. ALLEN BASTIANELLI," "G. A. DIXON."

THE ONLY NOURISHMENT WHICH THE PATIENT HAS BEEN ABLE TO RECEIVE FOR SEVERAL DAYS HAS BEEN THROUGH INJECTIONS.

STARTLED AT CHANGE.

Dr. Starr was startled at the change in Mr. Morgan's appearance. He saw him a short time ago at Naples and was much concerned about today over the change which took place last night."

FOUR TRAINED NURSES.

There are four trained nurses from the Anglo-American Nursing Home in attendance. Mr. Morgan's pulse gradually is becoming weaker. The insomnia from which he suffers is being combated by drugs, but the narcotics are having a pronounced effect on his heart. The most distressing symptom for those surrounding him is the patient's complete silence. For this reason it has been impossible to say whether he now realizes his condition. The last words uttered by Mr. Morgan were a request to have his limbs massaged."

All attempts to make the patient swallow anything, even water, have been in vain. The physicians explain that this is due to the lack of functional vitality of the nerve centers, which, under such conditions, arrest the functioning of the organs. They are opposed to the desire of Mr. and Mrs. Satterlee to remove Mr. Morgan to London, considering that any exposure at present would be extremely dangerous."

THE WORLD IS ANXIOUS.

Only tonight did the gravity of Mr. Morgan's condition become generally known in Rome, and anxious inquiries concerning him have been pouring in. Even King Victor Emmanuel has privately inquired concerning the financial progress, although His Majesty at present is absent from Rome.

BATTLING WITH DEATH IN HEART OF ROME.

By Clarence J. Barrett.

(By Atlantic Cable and by Federal (Wireless) Line Overland to The Times.)

ROME, March 30.—(Special Dispatch.) J. P. Morgan is hovering between life and death. The greatest individual power the financial world has ever known is battling for breath in the darkness of the Grand Hotel in the heart of Rome. He had a sudden turn for the worse at 4 o'clock this afternoon and he has not rallied from this relapse.

Dr. George A. Dixon of New York and Giuseppe Bastianelli, the King's specialist, have been in consultation for several hours tonight. In guarded statements they admit the critical condition of their distinguished patient.

Upon good authority it is stated that a cerebral tumor has developed and that Dr. Dixon has advised an immediate operation. Dr. Bastianelli objects on the ground that the shock would prove fatal. Both doctors refuse to discuss the details of the sick room.

FATAL ACCIDENT

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SEATTLE (Wash.) March 30.—
Mrs. Lillian E. Whittlesey, widow of W. A. Whittlesey, was killed and five other persons were injured, two probably fatally, early today when an automobile in which they were returning from a dance, went over the edge of a ravine at Third avenue north and Crockett street on the Queen Anne drive and fell 200 feet to the bottom.

Mrs. Whittlesey's twin sons, Cedric Whittlesey, buyer for a wholesale drug house, and Walter B. Whittlesey, an instructor at the University of Washington, suffered internal injuries which probably will cause their death.

Miss C. N. Peach, Miss Dora
Haines and S. H. Monroe, the other members of the party, were seriously bruised but their injuries are not considered dangerous.

The accident is attributed to a mistake made by Cedric Whittlesey, who was driving the car, in believing he was on a street which was carried over the ravine on a bridge. He did not discover the error until the car, which was going fast, was on the brink.

Single Candidate to Run Against San Francisco Police Judge in Women's Recall Election.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—
Walter F. Crist will be the only candidate against Police Judge Charles L. Weller when the recall election aimed at Weller by the women voters of the city is held on April 22.

The time limit for filing nominations expired at midnight with Crist's papers the only ones presented.

Judge Weller reduced the ball of Albert Hendricks, an automobile dealer, charged with assault. Hendricks disappeared and the women began the campaign which brought about a recall election. In the meantime James Christy, a private detective, was tried and found guilty of having attempted to dissuade witnesses from appearing in the Hendricks case. He will be sentenced today.

NEED FOR RELIEF IS GREATER
DOWN THE RIVER.

No More Suffering Said to Exist
Through Lack of Food or Shelter
In Report Received by Government.—Fund Is Nearly Half a Million.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON, March 30.—“All places affected by the flood in such a way as to need help are receiving it and it is not believed that suffering exists anywhere now from want of food or shelter,” was the report today to Adj.-Gen. Andrews from Maj.
Gen. Wood, chief of staff, who with Secretary of War Garrison is directing relief operations in the flooded district. He added that, while loss of life had been very heavy, it was far smaller than first reports indicated.

“Do not send any more government supplies,” said the report, “unless the department's representatives on the ground request them. Any supplies available should be held for possible needs further down the river. Maj.
Normyle has received the great bulk of supplies sent to Columbus and is busily engaged in shipping them out to points where required.”

NEED IN MUSKINGUM VALLEY.
Maj. Normyle has reported that the greatest need for supplies now appeared to be in the Muskingum Valley. Maj. Gault has been sent to Parkersburg with authority to hire steamers and purchase supplies for that territory.

Relief funds received by the Red Cross are nearing the half-million mark. Checks in today's mail, including $15,000 from Boston, $10,000 from Hartford, Ct., and $25,000 from a brewing company, bring the total already up to $391,000.

Ernest P. Bicknell, national director of the American Red Cross, reported from Columbus, O., that he had established headquarters in the State house and would work with the State Flood Relief Committee, as well as with the army. He said he had held an extremely satisfactory conference with Gov. Cox and the others in authority.

SEND LIFE SAVERS.
Superintendent Kimball of the life-saving service ordered the life-saving crew from Lorain, O., which had returned from Delaware, O., to proceed at once to Covington, Ky., to render what aid could be given flood sufferers in that vicinity.

ficers in charge of the Ohio Hospital at Evansville, Ind.,
Memphis, Tenn., and Cairo, Ill., to

CHAPIN KEEPS THE CALL.

Spreckels Will Put Up a Magnificent Building to House San Francisco Newspaper.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF
THE TIMES, March 30.—[Exclusive
Dispatch.] The San Francisco Press
Club last night gave a midnight smoker in honor of Ernest S. Simpson, editor of the Call, who retired yesterday in order to accept the post of managing editor of the Chicago American.
Spreckels' afternoon paper in the Windy City. Until Mr. Chapin took hold of the Call and brought A. R. Fenwick with him as managing editor Mr.
Simpson occupied that position. Simpson began his journalistic career about sixteen years ago on the Chronicle
as telegraph editor.

Since the announcement that John D. Spreckels will build a new home for the Call at Fourth and Market streets, it has been learned that the inference that this meant the retirement of W. W. Chapin at the end of his year's option, is incorrect. It is learned from good sources that Mr.
Chapin plans to exercise the option
he has on the Call but needed a new home and induced Mr. Spreckels to provide it. It is reported that Chapin will have charge of the construction of the twenty-five story building which Spreckels will build on the corner of Fourth and Market streets.
Chapin has impressed San Francisco with his energy and his executive ability and he has greatly improved
the Call as a newspaper.

SCORES FASHION.SAYS PRESENT MODES MENACE
WOMAN'S HAPPINESS.

Wife of Cabinet Member Declares Servant Girl Perplexities
Are Largely Due to Expensive Quality of Garments Worn by the
Up-to-Date Domestic.

BY CONSTANCE CARRUTHERS.

(BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 30.—[Special Dispatch.] “Dress is woman's bane.”
Such, at least, is the opinion of Mrs.
W. C. Redfield, wife of the Secretary of Commerce.

“I am a firm believer in every one presenting as good an appearance as possible, at home and abroad,” declares Mrs. Redfield. “I take great pride in the reputation which the American woman has for being neat, stylish and charming to the eye. What I protest against is that foolish idea which so many have about the latest cry from Paris, to use the modish term. That silly feeling about appearing twice in the same gown or wearing any robe, no matter how elegant or becoming, because, perhaps the sleeves show a line not in accord with the Paris fashion book or the train shows a divergence from what consists of elegance on Rue de la Paix.

WASTE TIME ON GOWNS.

“Every woman knows what gray matter, what energy, what precious time, is spent getting gowns. When they become multiplied as the modes prevail, it means part of every day given over to something which is without value to one's self, to society or to the family.

“Really, I should like to see our sensible American women, those who form public opinion and whom the general run of womankind consider as models of deportment, take a more common-sense view of this question of dress. Why not be happy in last year's gown, well made and suitable for the occasion and give the time and money which would be spent in getting new ones to something more worthy?”

“All womankind complains of the almost prohibitive prices we now pay for domestic service. As the price mounts higher and higher, I was led to protest to some who sought service with me that they should consider the new modern equipment of the home, electric lights, hot water heating, the modern methods of cleaning houses, made work as much lighter than in days when there were lamps to attend to, kitchen ranges and kindling wood and the old-fashioned way of house-cleaning every room with broom and mop.

COSTS MORE FOR MAIDS.

“They listened to me interestedly and several told me they were compelled to have more money to live.
Everything costs more—their wardrobe, their shoes, stockings, soap and such things. The maid of today wears silk stockings and usually as good shoes as her mistress. She must present a certain appearance or she cannot fill the engagement. Her apron must be of a good quality and so must the material of her gown. Of course, many housekeepers furnish these for the maids, but I speak of the rank and file of the people who keep but one maid of all work and who must also present a stylish front
to their acquaintances.

“All this leads me to wonder how many more maids, furriers and every sort of manufacturer, got rich in the old days, when gowns were made over several times, when linen was a valuable dower handed down like silver and jewelry, and a pair of the best service for two years and then had another lease of life by being resoled.

“As for the multiplication of slippers and shoes, silk stockings and silk skirts, they form a perfect menace in our present day morality. Those in a number of stations will imitate those more fortunate, so that the extravagance which marks the working girl is but the reflex of the lack of economy of those above her. The same is true of other expenses. The home must suffer in this restless rush for pleasure and display.”

that a land law affecting the subjects
of this nation would be taken by the Japanese government as cause sufficient for it to cancel preparations to

passed in the lower house, setting
April 26 as the date for final adjournment. Gov. Johnson himself suggested the date, on advice of the administration leaders in both houses,
and it is anticipated that no effective opposition can be made.

ANTI-INJUNCTION BILL.
When the Caminetti bill prohibiting the use of the injunction in labor disputes is reported back to the Senate from the Judiciary Committee this week, with a majority recommendation that it do not pass, Senator Caminetti will present a minority report favoring the bill and move for its adoption. The vote on this motion will be an adequate test of the bill's strength in the upper house.

Paul Scharrenburg, representing the State Federation of Labor, said tonight he had found twenty-two votes in favor of it in a canvass of the Senate.

EFFECT ON THE FAIR.
A hard fight against an anti-alien land law and against the Kehoe bill prohibiting the sale of liquor inside
the grounds of the Panama-Pacific Exposition grounds, will be made by officials of the fair. Practically the whole board of directors is expected to come from San Francisco on Tuesday to urge postponement of anti-Japanese legislation until after the exposition has ended, on the grounds
that a land law affecting the subjects
of this nation would be taken by the Japanese government as cause sufficient for it to cancel preparations to participate in the exposition.

THE JUDGMENT
HOUSEIt is a story whose sympathies are as wide as the world.
The destinies of nations are interwoven with the lives of two heroes—one a millionaire, a pioneer of the Cecil Rhodes type; the other a diplomat, with his finger on the pulse of the world. And the woman, like Cleopatra, influences the careers of the empire-builders by her beauty and her cleverness.

All those qualities of devouring interest which charmed a million men and women

Sixty-third Congress.

WILSON TO VISE
TARIFF REVISIONPresident to Have Last Say on New Measure.House Leaders Will Defer to His Judgment.Income Tax Provision Must Run the Gauntlet.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The "smoothing out" process to be initiated this week in preparation for the handling of tariff revision in the extra session of Congress that opens April 7 is regarded by Congressional leaders as the most important step in the tariff preliminaries.

Senator Simmons, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, will confer shortly with Chairman Underwood of the House Ways and Means Committee and both will talk with President Wilson and arrange for further conferences. While the tariff bill practically is complete, important developments hang upon the decisions of President Wilson and upon the result of a full canvass of the Democrats of the Senate.

DECISION UP TO WILSON.
The President Wilson will be left the final decision as to whether there shall be one general revision bill or separate measures for each of the different schedules of the tariff law.

A majority of the House tariff makers favor the single bill idea; and if President Wilson supports the plan a single bill will be offered to the House.

The plan has already roused sharp opposition in the Senate, however. The free sugar and 15 per cent. duty on raw wool, provided for in the bill in the House Committee, will be the target for attack in the Senate, not only from Republicans, but from Democrats, who come from wool or sugar States.

Should a single general tariff bill be introduced with the approval of President Wilson it is believed the Senate Democratic leaders would be loath to yield to the demand for separate votes on these two schedules. In such event they might be taken out of the general tariff bill and passed as amendments.

"MARKET BASKET" LIST.
The extent to which President Wilson may desire a reduction of duties on agricultural products, comprised in the so-called "market basket" list, will have a marked influence on the support that may be given the new tariff revision by Progressive Republicans. The tariff on wheat, barley, oats and other farm products practically has been set in half by the House Committee.

If this rate of duty is approved by President Wilson, it is believed a large body of the Progressive Republicans of the House will vote for the Democratic bill, unless other reductions are so extreme as to make them change their plans. The Democratic bill will not need the additional Progressive or Republican support in the House, where the Democratic majority is large, but Democratic leaders would welcome the shift of one or two Republican or Progressive votes in the Senate to strengthen their narrow majority which may be disturbed by a bitter fight on free sugar or upon the wool duty.

President Wilson's tariff messages, the substance of which has been communicated to leaders of both Houses of Congress, is understood to have revealed general approval.

In the ten days that precede the opening of the special session it is planned to settle, so far as possible, all of the disputed points, and to reach a general basis of agreement that will insure speedy action and a few changes in the tariff bills.

The income tax plan as framed is expected by the Democratic leaders of the House to run the gauntlet of both Houses successfully and to become a part of the permanent national revenue system. The scheme embodies these features:

Exemptions—All incomes under $1000; incomes of eleemosynary institutions, etc.

Rates—Minimum 1 per cent. on $1000; graduated up to a maximum of 4 per cent. on $100,000 or more.

Method—Enforcement of the "collection at the source" principle so as to obviate personal assessments as much as possible; collection through corporations or other employers in lieu of directly from the employees whenever practicable.

INCOME TAX REVENUE.
The rates and exemptions still are subject to change though the figures are expected to stand. The income tax feature was written in its essentials by Representative Hill of Tennessee.

It is designed to bring into the treasury not far from $100,000,000, including the present corporation tax of about $50,000,000.

IRISHMAN STARTLES BOSTON.
Raises Erin's Flag on New Annex to City Hall and Almost Starts a Riot.

(BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.)

BOSTON, March 30.—(Special Dispatch.) A riot was almost precipitated about the City Hall yesterday when a flag was seen floating from the top of the steel framework of the new City Hall Annex. While the occupants of the City Hall seemed to be highly elated and gave vent to their feelings in ringing cheers, there were murmurings of protest and indignation from the crowd that quickly gathered.

It is the custom to hoist the Stars and Stripes at the top of a new building when the frame of the uppermost story has been put in place, and when the green banner of Old Erin was discerned on the highest point of the new annex to the City Hall a crowd soon collected in the street to view the unusual spectacle. The flag had not been flying long before complaints began to come into the Mayor's office and to Capt. Sullivan of State Police in Boston.

Col. Field, the Mayor's secretary, sent a policeman to investigate and call the attention of the contractors to an ordinance which forbids the raising of any foreign flag on a public building.

The flag was then taken down and replaced with the Stars and Stripes.

PREDICT RAINS ON COAST.

No Cold Wave Is in Sight, According to Forecaster, and Unsettled Weather Will Prevail.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Temperatures above the seasonal average over most of the country, with precipitation generally below normal in the North and near normal in the South, probably will prevail in the coming week, according to the Weather Bureau's weekly bulletin.

"No pronounced cold wave will cross the country this week," the bulletin predicts. "Frequent rains are probable on the Pacific Coast as far south as Northern California. A disturbance center Sunday morning in the Northwest will move eastward along the northern border and cause unsettled weather and local rains at the beginning of the week in the region east of the Mississippi River."

Another disturbance will appear in the Far West Tuesday and cross the Middle West Wednesday.

WILSON TO USE
THE BIG STICK.NEW TARIFF BIDD MUST MEET IDEAS OF PRESIDENT.

Will Coerce Congress by Using Club of Patronage Into Embodiment of His Views in New Revision of Schedules and May Break With Underwood and Other Leaders.

BY GEORGE E. HILL.

(BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 30.—(Special Dispatch.) Once more the spirit of the big stick is heard in the land. From the White House the word has gone forth to Democratic legislators that President Wilson and his Cabinet will see to it that the tariff will be framed according to the administration's ideas of tariff revision, and not according to the ideas of Representative Underwood and his colleagues on the Ways and Means Committee.

The measure, if not actually revised at the White House, will be trimmed to conform with the views of the President and his Cabinet. It will then be presented to the Democratic legislators in caucus. Those who accept it will be considered members of the party with a voice in the distribution of patronage. Upon those who reject it, pressure will be brought to bear, but if they persist in refusing to bow to the administration's will, they will be cast into exterior darkness, where they will probably be much walling and gnashing of teeth. There will be no material dispensing of patronage until the fate of the administration tariff revision bill has been definitely determined.

The edict putting into effect at the capital the methods applied by Gov. Wilson at the New Jersey State House has not gone forth generally, but certain Democratic Senators have been given to understand that the programme will be carried out to the letter. If they do not conform to it they must pay the penalty and, however indifferent the recalcitrant Democratic legislators profess to be towards the patronage question, the punishment is not regarded as a light one.

The political consequence will also be serious, as the refractory law-makers will be branded as reactionary and hostile to the official progressive policies of the administration, while without patronage to dispense, they will find it practically impossible to square themselves with their local supporters.

Naturally, there are mutterings of disapproval among the Democrats in Congress.

The reports from Trenton that President Wilson would take the whip hand in steering the progressive Democratic measures through Congress, even if he had to go to the Capitol to see that the legislators behaved themselves, were not taken very seriously. Senators, especially, believed that a few days in the House would convince President Wilson of the wisdom of keeping his hands off Congress. The President has done nothing of the kind. His programme for tariff revision, on the contrary, indicates that he and not the Democratic leaders, will frame the legislation to which he believes the party has been committed and the necessary steps will be taken to bring the rank and file into line, forthwith.

The greatest fears among the Democrats themselves, is that President Wilson's scheme for tariff revision will breed strife through the humiliation of Representative Underwood and the members of the Ways and Means Committee.

WILSON GIRLS ARE FETTERED.
Mrs. Lane and Mrs. Smith Entertain in Their Honor, the Latter at a "Southern Party."

(BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 30.—(Special Dispatch.) The Misses Wilson are being entertained every day and almost every hour by Mrs. Franklin K. Lane and a luncheon in their honor on Friday and yesterday they were the guests of Mrs. Hoke Smith, who entertained quite a "southern party."

At the Beach yesterday:

"The rumble of the surf—warmth of sun—woozy crunch of sand—teasy breezes—laughing girls—health and happiness and dreams of big things coming, hopes and ambitions to be realized—and how the surf washed away all of the disappointments, the irritations of yesterday"

—from A SUNDAY AT THE BEACH by Jacquelin Cleaur.

At the beaches yesterday one could not help remarking how Men's clothes make a man look so manly this season. So altogether alive and boyant, thoroly American. A free limbed, roomy Western look at the same time graceful and nice,

Men are thinking more about clothes this season—not sissily but practically so—they are considering taste more carefully, considering the "real economy" (paying a bit more for their clothes.) Twenty-five dollars seems to be the average starting point, and

Authorized Announcement by the Electric Service Companies of Los Angeles

An Economic Problem
or a Political Football?

Marketing the aqueduct power to the best advantage of every citizen of Los Angeles is plainly an economic problem. The subject should not, in the best interests of the public, be made a creature of politics.

If the question is to be settled fairly and so that every family will derive the greatest advantage, it must be considered dispassionately.

Many events of recent years have shattered theories of the alleged undue power of utility companies. The people have the power. No one knows it better than the companies, who for years have struggled against prejudices engendered by earlier corporations, engaged in new industries, who did not fully understand their true obligations to the public.

The public utility corporations of the country are now owned, for the most part by hundreds of thousands of persons of modest means, who certainly regard themselves as part of the "people." During the past few years the number of small stock and bondholders in these companies has grown amazingly.

The three electric service companies of Los Angeles have no apologies to make for their record. They have borne a conspicuous and important part in the marvelous development of this and surrounding communities. They staked everything upon faith and induced the investment of million upon million of eastern capital.

Great water power and steam generating plants have been built. Comprehensive and wide flung distributing systems have been erected. New districts and towns have not had to wait for service. Daring engineering achievements marked their progress. Not a dollar of public credit was drawn upon by way of guarantee or subsidy.

Service has been good. Rates have been and are low—among the very lowest in the world. The capital invested has received only a moderate return. Demands for new capital are constant and insistent. The companies have not failed in their responsibilities.

The part the electric service companies have had in upbuilding Los Angeles entitles them to no unusual rights or privileges, but it should credit them to a fair hearing in the matter in which they, as well as the people, are vitally concerned.

Denouncing a corporation simply because it is a corporation is absurd. The deeds and acts of corporations are properly subject to discussion and criticism, but only the unthinking are longer moved by blind attacks upon measures simply because they have a corporation source.

Problems such as that now before Los Angeles concern too deeply the common welfare of men, women and children to permit of settlement upon grounds of prejudice or sentiment. They are business questions—matters of dollars and cents.

Is it not right to look them squarely in the face?

THE TIMES is pleased to announce the distribution of a very handsome Scrap Book to its patrons, at a nominal cost. With this book it is possible to make a very valuable work of reference by clipping daily articles from THE TIMES on subjects that may interest you personally; articles of historical or statistical value, or articles from your favorite contributor. Mrs. Eaton

WORKS IN JAIL.

Sheriff Grants Her Request for Employment.

Imprisoned Woman Makes a Favorable Impression.

Attorneys Will Confer With Client During Week.

PLYMOUTH (Mass.) March 30.—[Special Dispatch.] Mrs. Jennie May Harrison Eaton, accused of the murder of her husband, Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, attended divine services in the guardroom of the jail today and appeared deeply interested in the sermon and singing. The first request that she made when she reached here as a prisoner—that she be allowed to work—was granted today by Sheriff Henry Porter. He announced that during the period of her confinement she will be allowed to sew, mend and patch the prison uniforms and assist in the making of bed clothing if she so desires.

Neither Mrs. June Alsworth Kayser nor Dorothy Alsworth Eaton, the two daughters of the woman, will visit her until the middle of next week, according to the prison schedule. It is possible that either Attorney Francis J. Geoghan of Rockland or Attorney William A. Morse of Boston or both may journey to Plymouth early in the week to talk over new features of her case with her.

Mrs. Eaton has evidently made a favorable impression upon Sheriff Porter. The latter announced last night that the imprisoned woman will not only be allowed all possible privileges, including unusual meals and outdoor exercises if she desires them, but characterized her as a "woman of education and refinement, who will be shown every courtesy possible in jail."

Because of the declaration of District Attorney Barker that he would examine very carefully into Mrs. Eaton's mental condition, Sheriff Porter has asked whether he would watch her more closely than the usual prisoners.

"Oh, certainly not," he replied. "I consider Mrs. Eaton to be a trustworthy woman and what little talk I have had with her has shown her to be a woman of education and refinement. She will be shown every courtesy possible while with me."

TO ENTERTAIN PRINCESS.

Knoses and Goules Will Give Honolulu Titled Woman as Guest of Honor in New York.

(BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 30.—[Special Dispatch.] Princess David Kawanakakahi will be the central attraction of a round of gaieties in her honor being given by the Knoses and Goules of the Hawaiian Islands.

The princess, who is now in California, the guest of Mrs. Kate Voorhies Henry, will spend several weeks in New York, Washington and Newport under the social wings of Mrs. Knos.

When the former Secretary of State and his wife visited Honolulu on their way to the obsequies of the late Mikado, the princess entertained them royally. The Knoses will now reciprocate in hospitality.

SOCIALISTS SPLIT.

Defeated Faction at Tacoma Organizing a New Division at a Convention Held in Seattle.

(BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SEATTLE (Wash.) March 30.—Three hundred "political action" socialists, representing the faction which was defeated in the local convention at Tacoma, March 11, organized today "the Seattle Division of the Socialist Party of Washington" to receive the members of the old party who object to the "direct action" methods endorsed by the Tacoma convention.

Homey Bone of Tacoma was the principal speaker.

"The split in the Tacoma convention was the best thing that ever befell the Socialist party," he said. "Now we have got rid of our worst enemies, and the first thing for us to do is to adopt a more progressive policy—not to a certain class, but to the masses."

ENGLISHMAN IS HONORED.

Sir William Wilcox Will Be Honorary Vice-President of the National Drainage Congress.

(BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 30.—[Special Dispatch.] Sir William Wilcox, baronet of the great Assuan dam on the Nile, has accepted the honorary vice-presidency of the National Drainage Congress.

The problems of regulating the Mississippi River and its tributaries and also utilizing its flood waters were studied by him in preparation for his great engineering feat in Egypt.

At present Sir William is en route to the Turkish Minister of Public Works and his acceptance of the honor was announced by Chicago today. It is said by local officials that the news of the devastation of Ohio and Indiana is responsible for the great engineer's quick acceptance of the place, and it is thought that this country will have the benefit of his advice in solving many of its most serious drainage problems.

Speaker Clark Favors Abolishing Conventions for Nominating President and Vice-President in Future.

(BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, March 30.—The nomination of President and Vice-President at primary elections instead of by conventions was advocated last night by Speaker Clark of the House of Representatives in an address at the annual banquet of the Missouri Society of New York here.

He rejoiced, he said, that the constitutional amendment for the direct election of Senators soon will be a part of the Constitution. He predicted the Democratic administration would "religiously carry out the promise of the Baltimore platform," and that both the legislative and executive branches would work harmoniously together to this end.

FEWER PIANOS, MORE STOVES.

Dr. Harvey Wiley, Pure Food Advocate, Diverts Monrovia With Discourse on Eating.
MONROVIA, March 30.—Dr. Harvey W. Wiley appeared here last night, under the auspices of the Monrovia Lyceum Course, in his lecture, "The Public Health: Our Greatest National Asset." Dr. Wiley was greeted by an audience which filled the auditorium of the High School to the doors, and followed the speaker with the clearest attention and greatest enthusiasm.

Dr. F. M. Pottenger introduced the lecturer, saying that Monrovia was honored by having the privilege of listening to one of the nation's great men, who had lived to see the fruition of his labors.

Dr. Wiley, in his introductory remarks, paid a high compliment to Californians, congratulating them upon the richness and fertility of their country, and upon their own progressive character. He then launched into the subject of his discourse, saying that despite the marvelous richness of the United States in mineral and agricultural resources, the greatest nation of the world, and the healthiest of its people, and that the subject of his talk was the statement of a truth, and of an existing condition.

Dr. Wiley made a plea for more practical courses in our schools, for medical inspection of the pupils, and for the segregation of all infectious and contagious diseases. "If we segregated cases of infectious and contagious diseases," said he, "tuberculosis, smallpox and many other fatal maladies would become as rare as leprosy."

In connection with his remarks on making the school and college curricula more practical, the speaker dwelt on the cooking of the American people. "I have been in almost every civilized country on the globe," he said, "and I am ashamed to say that Americans are the worst cooks in the world. Let us have fewer planes and more stoves."

The same attention given by the general public to the matter of eating and drinking, Dr. Wiley declared, is the fundamental business of the world. "In the term of a sixty-year life, five years are actually spent at table, twenty years in the effort to get something to eat, and twenty in sleeping, which is intimately connected with the activities of digestion, totaling forty-five years of sixty, or more than two-thirds of the average life, in this most fundamental business."

The adulteration of food and drugs was discussed at length, and the subject of balanced rations taken up. "We know how to feed our cattle," said Dr. Wiley, "but we have no idea what we ought to eat ourselves."

The lecture was livened throughout by humorous and witty interludes, which drove home the point of his arguments in a most convincing manner.

SUPREME SACRIFICE.
Pomona Woman's Offer to Go to Africa to Do Religious Work Is Accepted.
POMONA, March 30.—At the First Christian Church this morning Rev. C. E. Hudson, the pastor, announced to the congregation that the foreign missionary headquarters of the church in Cincinnati had accepted the service of Miss Edith Apperson of this city, who recently volunteered to devote her life to missionary work in Africa, and that arrangements had been made for Miss Apperson to sail from New York City on April 19 on the steamship Zealand.

Several months ago, during a visit here of Rev. and Mrs. Moon, missionaries from Africa, Miss Apperson, who has been a stenographer in a local architect's office, publicly announced her desire to go as a missionary to the dark continent, at a meeting of the church at which Rev. Moon had spoken of his work among the natives, and had made an earnest appeal for workers. Miss Apperson had long been interested in missions and has previously studied at Bible institutes.

There was much rejoicing at the local church today, for Miss Apperson, who is a talented young woman, will be of much assistance in forwarding the work in the foreign mission field of the Christian denomination. She will sail direct from New York for Antwerp, where she will join Rev. and Mrs. Moon and the three will go for Africa. Miss Apperson will be stationed at one of the missions in the Congo River basin.

NEWS BRIEFS.
Rev. Bishop Joseph Johnson of Los Angeles, who administered confirmation at St. Paul's Church Sunday evening, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. McIntyre while here.

The benefit concert given this afternoon at the Belvedere Theater for the victims of the recent floods in Indiana and Ohio was well attended. Orchestral music was furnished by an orchestra under direction of Miss Leonora Von Leit and there were picture slides showing the flood-stricken district before and after the catastrophe. The rest of the program consisted of vocal solos by Misses Hazel Lathrop, Grace Thompson, Eleanor Lee and Harold Romain and Robert Egbert; readings by Misses Loree Norcross and Anne Lockery; songs and Mrs. Marjorie Walker; a vocal duet by Prof. and Mrs. Stanley F. Widener and selections by a quartette composed of Misses Dagmar Neilson, Eleanor Lee and Messrs. Hill and Egbert. "America" and "The Star Spangled Banner" was sung by the audience, led by Prof. Widener.

Found Cloth Centuries Old.
[New York Sun] There were "weather compensations" in pyramid times. Prof. Flinders Petrie, the celebrated Egyptologist, has made some most interesting discoveries in an extensive cemetery, some thirty miles south of Cairo.

Noticeable in the cemetery was the wonderful preservation of materials. Thus, the linen is quite fresh and strong, and in some instances the pieces were as white as if they had just left the loom. The coffins, of wood, of acacia or shittim, were quite sound and many of the tombs still had the original beams in position. This is quite remarkable, as the cemetery dates from the earliest age down to the time of the pyramids.

The remains of the houses of the period were found used in the construction of the coffins and the specimens showed that the ancients of this period were the holiest of the Egyptians. The planks and lashed them together in such a manner that they could slide over one another during the change in climatic temperature.

Severe English Dignity.
[Pittsburgh Dispatch:] Samuel G. Rhyne and Thomas J. Pence, two distinguished Washington journalists, met last summer in front of the Hotel Cecil, in London, and started to stroll along together.

In the course of their walk they approached a monolithic, drooping-mustached, high-hatted, frock-coated, pompous Englishman, packing more dignity about him than the Chief Justice White ever thought of. He looked so much like a typical comic magazine Englishman the Americans were greatly amused.

"I'm going to see if I can break through that dignity," said Tom Pence. As they came up to the man, Tom inquired: "I say, old chap, can you tell me where Col. Pence lives?"

"There may be several Col. Pences," replied the Englishman, after adjusting his monocle and looking the pair over.
"Oh, be sure; but I mean the famous Col. Pence," explained Tom.
"There may be several Col. Pences," was the Englishman's reply. And he walked away, leaving Tom Pence with heightened respect for the perceptive powers of the native Britishers.

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF.

Lecture on Shakespeare.
Rev. Philip Williams will lecture on Shakespeare and a popular concert will be given under the direction of Mrs. M. G. Gonnies at Father Meyer's Hall, Eighteenth and Grand avenue, this evening at 8 o'clock. The proceeds will go to El Carmel Church at Simona.

Benefit Dance.
A benefit dance, the proceeds of which will go to the food sufferers of the Middle West, will be given tomorrow night at the Majestic Academy, Fifteenth and Main streets. The manager, Carl Horn, has arranged a number of other attractions for the occasion which will add to the total.

On Aqueduct Power Bonds.
The aqueduct power bonds question will be the subject of discourse at a dinner of the Evening City Club to be held at Christopher's, at 4 o'clock this evening. E. B. Scattergood will speak. Members are invited to bring guests, and are requested to make reservations as soon as possible, with Cora E. Lane, secretary.

Record Confirmation.
The largest class ever confirmed at St. Patrick's received the sacrament yesterday at the hands of Bishop Conaty. It consisted of ninety-three girls and women and eighty-four men and boys. The bishop spoke on the nature of the sacrament and administered the total abstinence pledge to the boys, a crowded congregation witnessed the ceremony.

Bloodless Street Duel.
Bert Nelson, living at No. 325 East Second street, was knocked down and robbed of $23.95 early yesterday morning by two men near his home. The cries of the victim attracted Patrolman Croft and Special Officer Miller, who ran up in time to see Juan Sefeda and Walter Zolner attempting to escape. The two men were taken into custody after a revolver duel wherein the officers and the fugitives emptied their revolvers without hitting the bullets in the body of either. The men were held at Central Station on a charge of highway robbery.

He Runs; They Shoot.
Officers responding to a fast call early yesterday morning at No. 137 Vine street, found Juan Prio in bed with a bullet in his body. The wounded man was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where he said he was shot by three negroes after an attempt to rob him.

According to his story he entered a saloon about a block from home and was drinking. He was followed by three negroes, who commanded him to throw up his hands. He refused to do so, and the negroes, who were armed with pistols, shot him. He escaped. Prio will recover.

Held as Highwayman.
For Italian arrested in the University district early yesterday morning as a result of information that two masked men were attempting to hold up various citizens. Monrovia, California, was the scene of the arrest by the police. The arrested man, Frank Varigero and Edward Rosini at Thirty-ninth street and Broadway, a few minutes after the arrest by the police. The man Ferguson of the University Station, picked up Joe Larelli and U. C. Frigellano, two other Italians who were also arrested.

The three hundredth performance of the Mission Play will be given Thursday evening in its own theater, the Mission Playhouse, San Gabriel. A number of Los Angeles organizations will honor the event by sending large delegations. At a recent meeting of the directors of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, a committee was appointed to make arrangements for a large representation from its membership on this night. The different women's clubs will also send large delegations. This afternoon the Mission players will give a special performance of the play for the benefit of the food sufferers. The entire receipts will go to the food fund.

FANATICS FIRE ON BULGARS.
Otherwise Complete Order Is Restored at Adrianople—Ere-Itom Describes Bombardment.
[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES].
LONDON, March 31.—The correspondent of the Times, who went to Adrianople after the fall of the city, wires:

"Complete order has been restored save in a few spasmodic cases, where fanatics have taken refuge in houses and are upon the Bulgarians. The bombardment, according to an eye-witness, was truly terrific, but the Bulgarians remained at their posts until daylight. The Bulgarians sustained and accurate fire forced the Turks to retire, and the fighting became general as soon as the Bulgarians came into the town, owing to the fact that the white flag was not hoisted on Shukri Pasha's headquarters until the Bulgarians had entered as the captors of the town."

"The Bulgarians lost 1000, of whom 1000 were killed. The pale, emaciated faces and tattered clothing of the Turks is striking proof of the hardships of the siege."

At Topolyu was a hard nut to crack. Within 500 yards the Serbians, who were accompanied by a Bulgarian regiment, met a terrible fire, and with mines exploding and men falling, the Bulgarians retreated, leaving the Serbians alone. The Serbians again advanced under cover of darkness, creeping like cats, and preceded by hand bomb throwers. The Turks did not discover them until the bomb throwers were upon the trenches. The Bulgarians then came up under command of a sergeant, having lost all their commanding officers, but again retired.

"After the battle had been taken, the Turks made counter attacks and with their machine guns inflicted heavy losses on the invading forces."

The Fever for Climbing.
[Washington Star:] Miss Dora Keen was talking at a tea at the Acorn Club in Philadelphia about mountaineers' enthusiasm.

"The frenzy to get higher, higher," she said, "is quite incredible to those who have done no mountaineering."

"There's a story, doubtless true, about a girl who climbed the Schreckhorn, a difficult rock-climb. When the summit was reached the guide, wiping his brow, cried:

"Well, here we are, miss, up on the very top at last."
"But the girl said, fretfully: 'This guide, can't we go any higher?'"
"Not unless you climb this alpenstock," said the guide, answering, "thrusting it into the frozen snow."

Blames Society for Failure to Live Aright.

Pleading the time-worn excuse of the criminal who attributes his evil life to the injustice of society, old Jim Case, ex-convict and confessed progenitor of more than 100 hold-ups in Los Angeles, lay on a cot at the Receiving Hospital yesterday and admitted his guilt and there appeared to be nothing between him and a just punishment for his crimes. He realized now that he talked too much when he thought he was going to die and is taking the matter stoically.

SECRETARY RESIGNS.
Don C. Bitter Resigns His Position, Though Sustained in Protest He Declines to Hold the Place.

VENICE, March 30.—Don C. Bitter, secretary of the Venice Realty Board, and leader of the protest against the appearance of an improperly clad dancer at the recent concert given by an entertainment committee of that organization, resigned as secretary of the Venice Realty Board yesterday. Bitter states that his duties as a Deputy City Clerk preclude the possibility of his keeping the job longer. The board, although upholding him, and the President Lewis in his action, has forgiven Fred S. Sargent and the smoke of the smoker has almost cleared away.

NEWS BRIEFS.
Under the auspices of the Goodwill Club, Venetians have been invited to attend a meeting and tell why they are fools. The gathering, being held on Monday evening, "Fools' Eve," Byron C. Hanson will lead the discussion of "Why Is a Fool?" and will suggest remedies for the cure of this idiosyncrasy. O. C. Melton, J. W. Lawrence, Jr. and Prof. Green T. Work will follow and tell why and how fools are made such.

RAISES BIG FUND.
LONG BEACH, March 30.—The churches of Long Beach combined for the purpose of raising a fund for the food sufferers of Ohio and Indiana. Several churches were made and a collection resulted in $3000 being given or pledged for the unfortunate who lost all in the terrible disaster. Tomorrow will be "tag day" and the fund thus raised will be added to that raised tonight. Those in charge of the work say at least $5000 will be sent from this city Tuesday.

PERSONALS.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Mullins, American residents of the City of Mexico, are at the Angelus Hotel in a merchant.

William McLaughlin, who came to Los Angeles on a broad scale, is the Alexandria. His home is in Kansas City, one of the great centers of the world.

Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Friedman, Denver are guests at the Lanthorn. They are here on a pleasure trip. Friedman is one of the leading merchants of the Colorado capital.

William Alden Smith, Jr., of the Senator Smith of Michigan, is the Alexandria. The young man is in Grand Rapids. He is here to close a business deal.

Attorney and Mrs. C. F. Schmitt, Buffalo, N. Y., are guests at the Lanthorn. They are here on a pleasure trip. Schmitt is a hardware merchant of the city of Buffalo.

Frank A. Salmons, a representative of the Kansas mines, is here. He is interested at the Hollenbeck. A precious stone that resembles a diamond. Recently Salmons sold about four pounds to Tiffany & Co. of New York for $5000. Salmons' home is in San Diego.

H. O. McCormick, vice-president of the Southern Pacific Railway, was headquarters in San Francisco. He is accompanied by Mrs. McCormick. He attended the matinee of the Motion Picture Play, San Gabriel, yesterday. He made the trip to San Gabriel on a private car, the guests of J. McLaughlin, general manager of the Pacific Electric Railway.

Thirty-two members of the military brass band of Stanford University are registered at the Hollenbeck. The main part of the arrangement came to the city Thursday.

Musicians arrived yesterday. Campbell, E. E. Tencher, B. W. B. singer, George Hutchinson and W. H. and Stanford Bradford. The band played at Pullman Saturday night and at the Beverly Hills Hotel Monday afternoon. E. W. Martin, director and Paul Blanchard, manager of the band.

Two officials of the Southern Pacific Railroad—E. O. McCormick, vice-president in charge of traffic, and C. E. Wentland, general manager, are at the Alexandria. They said that advance information received by them indicates that there will be an unprecedented number of tourists and emigrants come to the California coast this summer. They said that the floods and mudslides in the East and Middle West will increase the volume of travel toward the Pacific Coast. They said that land is now selling rapidly in the central and southern parts of the state and that his department has sold more land in the last few weeks than in any previous months. The largest of the new lands by the railroad company are in Antelope Valley. The company has $60,000 worth of land in the Antelope Valley. Mr. Wentland believes that the new season will aggregate more than the amount this summer.

MOTHER EARTH TO THE RESCUE.

Espee to Spend Fortune for
"Back to the Land."

Otherwise Food Famine, Is McCormick's Prophecy.

Accour Nation for Settlers in Great Areas.

"Unless there is a general movement back to the land this country will be an importer instead of an exporter of wheat within three years," said E. O. McCormick, vice-president in charge of traffic of the Southern Pacific, yesterday, speaking of a movement to be fostered by the railroad. McCormick is at the Alexandria.

"The railroads expect to bring 1,000,000 settlers to this State in the next three years; the steamship companies as many more. We want nine out of ten of them to settle on the land. Last year the farmers of this country produced wheat valued at $2,000,000,000 on $5,000,000,000 of borrowed capital. For this capital they paid from 7 to 8 1/2 per cent. interest. In Germany and France the farmer borrows his money from the government at 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 per cent. In Ireland and Argentina the government will buy the land for you and build a house. Why not here?"

"We are facing a food famine," said McCormick, "a condition of starvation in the midst of plenty. We are becoming land poor, not because there isn't the land, but because we haven't the people to till it."

"In California we have millions of acres of land awaiting tenants; better yet, resident owners. In the San Joaquin Valley we have a territory larger than all New Jersey that has scarcely been scratched. The Imperial Valley, more fruitful than Egypt of old, is patiently awaiting settlers. Yet, the price of living is ballooning; it is getting higher with every day that passes."

"A generation ago every householder kept a cow and a pig and a few chickens and could give the beef trust the meat it wanted. We should blame the beef trust, though, for they are up against it, too, with cattle becoming scarcer every day. Not long ago a big pasture movement was something happened to get the people back to the land the big packing-houses will be fitting to Argentine and Australia to get nearer the source of supply."

"We had over 1000 persons out of here to the San Joaquin yesterday on our low rate excursion. As many again from San Francisco. Most of them were colonists, but I hope that the tired business man and the dissatisfied wage earner were also among the lot, for they are the ones we want to catch. We want to get everybody interested in this back to the land movement and we are going to spend hundreds of thousands of dollars if need be to carry the gospel the country over."

"Say we double California's farm population. This means doubled production, also doubled tonnage for the railroads. We are anxious for the latter; for the former, for doubled production means cheaper foodstuffs. But we are not going to bring the people out here and let them sink or swim. Plans are now under way to double the efficiency of our agriculture department and within a few months we expect to have men who can tell you where to locate and what to raise. We will also be prepared to send a man with you to buy your land. This means that we put our O.K. on it. Right now we have two men looking up the rural credit system abroad. When the time comes we hope to co-operate with the State and national government in making farm land a good and a middling risk for loans; make them as safe as any liquid securities as municipal bonds."

NAB ALLEGED GANG LEADER.

Head of Supposed Band of Auto-motive Thieves Falls Into Hands of Police—Several Others Involved.

Roy T. Workman, believed by the police to be at the head of an organized band of auto thieves, was arrested early yesterday morning by Detectives Beaumont, Wedge and Meyer on North Main street, and is held at Central Police Station on a robbery charge. Workman is said by the police to have escaped from the Long Beach police Friday of last week, after having been arrested and turned over to them by Pomona officers.

Detectives working on the case say they have evidence tending to show the existence of a band of auto thieves who have been operating in Los Angeles and the surrounding cities. According to information obtained by the police the auto thieves changed the appearance of stolen machines and then disposed of them. Four men are now under arrest charged with robbery in connection with the disappearance of numerous automobiles and motorcycles, and these men are believed to be members of the same gang.

"The traffic in motorcycles in particular appears to have been profitable, according to the police. It is said that a station was maintained at Guasti and another at Naco, Ariz., the machines being shipped to the latter point for distribution after having been changed so as to avoid identification. An effort is being made to connect Workman as the head of the criminal organization, and the detectives say they have information that leads them to believe there are eight members of the gang."

TO RELIEVE SOUTHERLAND.

SAN DIEGO, March 30.—Admiral W. C. Cowles, who is due at San Francisco from Honolulu in a day or two, is expected to arrive here next Wednesday, when he will hoist his flag on the armored cruiser California and proceed to Guaymas to relieve Admiral Southernland. At Guaymas Admiral Cowles and Southernland will exchange flags, the former going to the Colorado, and the latter continuing north on the California. Admiral Southernland will then proceed to Washington to take his place on the general naval board.

REDONDO BEACH.

REDONDO BEACH, March 30.—A larger crowd than that of Easter Sunday was here today, automobiles being parked along Pacific avenue on both sides for half a mile. A great many enjoyed the surf bathing and while not many fish were caught, large numbers of people angled from all of the wharves. Some few half-birds were caught from wharf No. 1 today, the first of the season.

Brotherhood Triumphs.

sion of us. Let us see the place of these things in the great economy of God's beautiful world. Let us discover that across the ocean of misery, there is a gulf stream of human sympathy and love that bears us on toward a blessed haven.

"By one impulse we are thrilled with sympathy for men and women and children whom we have not seen, and why? Because we are all one brotherhood. From it we learn the lesson that all of us are God's children. And thus it is that we feel the electric shock of sympathy pass from hand to hand and from heart to heart. It is enough for us to know that they are clothed in the same robe of humanity. It is a time when we care not for creeds, race, school or thought. We help them because it is our privilege and prerogative to imitate God's loving ways. It is a magnificent opportunity for us to translate love into deeds of benevolence and good. And so it is that we suffer with them and sorrow with them—because they are our brothers."

Harry E. Andrews followed Rabbi Myers with a brief talk on the solidarity of the race and the burning question, "Why did Providence permit these awful things to happen?"

BENEFIT AT MASON.

Coincident with the meeting at Christ Church, the members of the "Principle of Tonight" Company, out of the goodness of their hearts, were giving a benefit performance at the Mason Opera-house. All of the players and the persons connected with the theater, from W. T. Wyatt, the manager, to the office boys, donated their services—which was just another way of showing that they, too, believed in the doctrine of the brotherhood of man. C. Elliott Miller, president of the Ohio State Society, made a short address between the second and third acts in which he thanked the members of the company and the management of the theater for their kindness. All of the persons who took tickets to sell had not reported last night. Wyatt estimated the proceeds of the benefit would be about $500.

CASH, NOT CLOTHES.

Gov. Cox of Ohio sent a telegram yesterday stating that no more clothing was needed, but there was an urgent demand for more money. Frank Wiggins, secretary of the chamber, said that the donations of clothing on hand would be forwarded, but that the gifts of this nature would be accepted.

Members of the Los Angeles City Teachers' Club, who wish to contribute to the club food funds are requested to send the money to the committee members by April 2, or to Miss Addie Doran at the clubroom, 515 Y.W.C.A. building.

Over $20 was collected in a few minutes for the benefit of the flood sufferers at the Mars Hill meeting on Los Angeles street between First and Second yesterday afternoon. The meeting was in charge of Rev. William Mullen, an evangelist of the Bible Institute. The money will be wired to the pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Dayton this morning.

ACTIVITIES CONTINUE.

The Ebell Club will take up a collection for the flood relief fund at its regular meeting at 8 o'clock this afternoon. A musicale under the direction of Mme. Clarice de la Fond-Snyder will be given at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Ebell Clubhouse. Admission will be free and a collection will be taken and the money turned over to Dr. Alice R. Chaffee, secretary of the Ohio State Society. Mme. Fond-Snyder suffered loss in the San Francisco earthquake. She said yesterday that in return for the aid given to her and thousands of others at that time she wished to have some part in the work of raising funds for the unfortunate in the flooded districts of the Middle West.

These pledges were reported Saturday night and yesterday to Dr. Chaffee: Sharp & Fellows Contracting Company, $100; Mrs. Archibald Mayo, $50; P. Gano Avolon, $50; William Bayly, $50; Bricklayers Union, Santa Monica, $30; Edwin O. Palmer, $25; F. E. Harris, $20; La Fiesta Parlor, Native Sons of Golden West, $10; E. W. Collins, Ravens, $5; Edward A. Bickel, $5; Janet M. Moore, $5; P. N. Massa, $5; Mrs. Elsie Skatta Massa, $5; E. J. Ebbell, $5; Mrs. Buckley, $1; C. J. Gardiner, $10; Mrs. J. A. Parrish, $5; Paul D. Beach, $10; Jesse M.

Emerson, $1; Children of Peter Pan Home, $1; Mrs. Brush, $1; Paul Brush, $5 cents; Mrs. Bert Harper, $10; A Friend, $2.

Many of the pastors referred to the flood situation in their sermons yesterday. Collections were taken in various churches amounting in the aggregate to several hundred dollars.

Dr. J. Edgar Colloran, secretary of the local branch of the American Red Cross Society, received this telegram yesterday from Charles L. McKee, secretary of the national society in Washington:

"Relief fund received by your chapter should be remitted to Red Cross treasurer, Washington. Red Cross has number of experts on the scene of disaster in close co-operation with Governor of State and government relief agencies." McKee's Cafe, No. 520 South Spring street, will give 5 per cent. of its gross receipts today, tomorrow and Wednesday to the flood relief fund. Other business establishments and public utility corporations will give part of their receipts to the fund.

SITUATION IN SONORA.

State Has Formed Itself Into a Tiny Republic and Uses Strident Methods in Raising Cash.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] EL CENTRO, March 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Stuart A. Ingram, a mining engineer of Los Angeles, who has been in Chihuahua, Mex., for several years, arrived here this morning from the mines of the Galenista Gold Mining Company located at La Cumbre, Chihuahua, Mex. Mr. Ingram has been thirty days making the trip.

Mr. Ingram was forced to close down the company's works during the Madero revolution, but was able to resume operations at the mine during the latter days of the administration of Madero. Considerable development work has been carried on during the past six months and until the Huerta administration gained control of the government. The officials of Sonora, rejecting Huerta, have established a State government and have practically gained control of Sonora. Mining companies, banks and business men have been compelled to pay tribute to which ever force was in control.

Recently the banks of Hermosillo were compelled to pay $25,000 gold each to the State government or constitutionalists as they are called, after which all of the banks also all of the merchants shipped what money they had on hand to the United States and business is at a stand-still.

The Southern Pacific Railway lines from Nogales to Guaymas is in the hands of the State troops. From Guaymas south that portion of the road which has not been destroyed is in the hands of the Huerta troops. The equipment of the road is fast becoming useless and unless the revolution is quickly ended it will be impossible to get supplies into the country.

Mr. Ingram's company was held up for supplies so many times by both Federal and constitutionalists that the English syndicate owning the property decided to quit work until such time as assurance is received that work will be protected. From Guaymas Ingram and his party traveled by carriage to Ariz, thence by hand car to Hermosillo and thence by train to Nogales. After looking after some property interests here Mr. Ingram will proceed to Los Angeles where he will visit his father, R. H. Ingram, late manager of the Southern Pacific lines in Mexico.

5663 co-operative shareholders.
12,880,000 total shares of subscribed stock as follows:
7,144,000 shares preferred and 5,236,000 shares common.
Only $285,560.00 preferred shares, par value, remaining.
Over $1,000,000 will be added to present capital and surplus from the money now being paid on stock subscribed and the sale of the remaining shares at 18 and 20 cents. The large profits derived by Gibraltar from its many continuous operations will give constantly growing capital for reinvestment.

Gibraltar's rapid growth reflects the confidence of the public in the soundness and profit-making worth of the company's co-operative plan of growing the trees, buying, planting, and subdividing the land, and selling the orchard home direct from producer to consumer—all profits realized under one management and one selling cost to the advantage of the shareholder.

Gibraltar's Assets Have Steadily Grown in Value

GIBRALTAR SHARES ARE WORTH MORE INTRINSICALLY THAN THE PRESENT SELLING PRICE. The immense nurseries have been enlarged. Olive trees and olive products are commanding higher and higher prices. Gibraltar Acres at Bloomington, bought at profit-making wholesale prices, are selling rapidly. Planting to trees, street improvement, and home-building are adding to values here every day. All the profits of expert business management, the greatness of the olive, and the purchase, subdividing and selling of rich acreage are assured the investor who buys Gibraltar Shares today.

AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT.

A "I won't support Lamer, I won't support the citizens, I won't support the Socialists."
 Well, if he keeps this up he won't support his family.

HARD ON THEM.

Saturday night was a bad time for bandits in this vicinity. Two were captured and a third was fatally injured. The way of the transgressor is so hard that it is cheaper not to take that route.

A GOOD ARGUMENT.

Everybody hates to pay the freight. Los Angeles people can stop doing so by buying goods that are made at home. This will increase the pay roll of local manufacturers. Help make the people who are making your city.

A SLICK PROPOSITION.

The London Times says that the Standard Oil Company wants to make China a big loan in return for its money back with interest and a monopoly on oil in China for the next half a century. People in the oil business are naturally smooth.

A PROPHECY FULFILLED.

Nothing had ever happened that a dozen people in different parts of the world were not able to prove that they had predicted it. While no one prophesied exactly what the manner of disturbance would be, there are scores of astrologers in America who have for several years prognosticated that 1918 would be a bitter year for the United States. Perhaps they only took a chance on the bad luck of the number.

ALWAYS READY.

President Wilson bears that if the United States does not want to join the six-power loan an American syndicate will put up the entire $100,000,000 for a long-term proposition. We think this is in good faith. Dollars are for development. They are the blood of commerce and they must circulate. As water follows the law of gravitation so does the wealth of the world flow through the channels of opportunity. China offers a wonderful field for constructive effort and it will certainly get the money required.

AN UNWARRANTED INSULT.

One of the unpleasant features of the Panama Canal controversy is the disposition of some men—Americans, to their shame be it said—to plunge into Billingsgate in discussing it. A man is not an ignorant imbecile and a disolute drunken thief because he disagrees with you with respect to the construction of an organic or statutory law.

Nicholas Murray Butler of New York has flooded the mails with a pamphlet containing language concerning his country which, if uttered in any public place in the United States, would probably secure for him a well-deserved kicking. He says that this nation will be "eventually dishonored" if Congress fails to "retreat promptly from its unwise and indefensible action" in passing the Panama Canal bill, and that its passage was "a dishonorable act."

It is quite possible that President Taft and the Senators and Congressmen who passed the law in question were as honorable men as their vituperative critic who, in his anxiety to serve England, made a thorough blackguard of himself.

THE SITUATION IN EUROPE.

Between the battle of Sadova, which eliminated Austria as a German power, and the Berlin conference which was held twelve years later, there were many changes in the policies of that European aggregation known as "the powers." Austria was given by the Berlin conference permission, or rather was ordered as one of the results of the Russo-Turkish war, to hold Bosnia-Herzegovina as a viceroyalty. They had themselves a separate national existence and nominal independence, but their laws were dictated and their policies shaped and their government practically administered at Vienna.

In 1908 Austria, taking advantage of the defeat of Russia in her war with Japan, violated the obligations she had accepted and the pledges she had made at the Berlin conference and formally annexed Bosnia and Herzegovina.

In doing this she shifted her center of political gravity so far eastward as to displace her from interfering with German politics, even if she desired to do so. The Balkan insurrection has had the result of arousing Russia more than ever against Austria and an armed collision between these powers in the near future is not improbable. In the event of such collision the Balkan States would side with Russia. The stern and unwarranted attitude of Austria toward little Montenegro may help to produce a conflict between her and Russia, and the Balkans and all Europe may be drawn into such a conflict, for if Germany helps Austria France will be apt to take advantage of the situation and strike for a recovery of Alsace and Lorraine.

If Bismarck and Beaconsfield, who were the ruling spirits at the Berlin conference, had been less busy with their own schemes for national aggrandizement, and had made Bosnia and Herzegovina autonomous, as they might have done thirty-five years ago, the pending peril of a general European war might have been averted.

GOVERNMENT BY EMPIRICISM.

All human development has been made by empiricism. Our ancestors of imperfect development were obliged to learn to distinguish food from poison by trying the various vegetable products of the earth. Many fell by the way, victims to elementary science. But each one who died left a lesson to the survivors and no further attempts were made to use the poisonous substance as food.

The highest human achievements have been reached along the lines of experiment. The paintings of Millet are only the end of many steps which began with the rudest attempts of the most elementary savages. The American Constitution was the outcome of crude attempts at substituting law for violence in the stone age and even beyond.

But there is an end to empiricism in certain paths of human progress. When the savage learned that wheat was good for food all the members of the tribe took to its cultivation. When a tribesman died in agony from eating some poisonous berry all his neighbors had sense enough to pass the bush on which it grew and put that berry no more in the bill of fare.

So in sculpture Michael Angelo wrought out rules which others would not attempt to set aside. To do so would not be audacity but madness.

Government is nearly as old as the science of farming to which we owe our great cereal crops, and while there are still forward steps to be taken in the science of government, there are certain fundamental principles which it would be as great madness to question as it would be to assert that wheat bread is poisonous, and there are others which have been proved by experiment to be as dangerous as it would be to season a beefsteak with arsenic.

Children of a tender age must be fed, and more than that, carefully watched, or they will go back to primitive conditions and try to live on an experimental diet. They do this because they are ignorant.

In government the age in which we live is full of grown-up persons who are children in their ignorance of the fundamental principles of government. These are like actual children, dangerously audacious in their ignorance, and the more dense the ignorance the more bold the audacity.

Has not empiricism, resting on ignorance of fundamental principles, lain at the root of all the turmoil and trouble of recent times? Do not the proponents of "new ideas," falsely so-called, plead that their nostrums intended to heal all the ills of society "be given a trial"? Have they not in this plea set out in the light of noon their own ignorance?

Here is one of these empiricists introducing in the Legislature of California a bill which provides for the appointment of a commission to superintend the use of disinfectants in the kitchens of all the households of the State. Here is another empiricist in government asking for a commission to see that no woman shall wear a dress which shows more than an inch or two of her neck below the roots of her hair. These successors of Solon think their propositions are as new as the last rose that has budded on the bush in the garden this morning. It is questionable if they know what is meant by summary laws, and if they do know the meaning of the word there can be no question as to their ignorance that this experiment was tried thousands of years ago and proved a lamentable and complete failure. This is a way of governing that was cast aside generations and ages ago as being as deleterious to the body politic as the use of strychnine instead of sugar in coffee would be to the individual body physical.

We have been afflicted here in Los Angeles with a general epidemic of this empiricism in municipal government. No reason would be listened to on the part of the political babies who rushed into the spotlight with a notion which in their childish ignorance they thought had never been tried, and of which they were proud as if it had been their own mental conception and partition. The other political children, audacious in their ignorance and ineptitude, rush madly to the polls crying: "Let us try it, it can do no harm."

Los Angeles has been the seedbed where these attempts have been made to sow political winds, and here we are now reaping the whirlwinds of chaos. Ten elections in a year, costing the taxpayers hundreds of thousands of dollars which ought to have gone into new school buildings. Tens of thousands of dollars sunk in freak publicity called the Municipal News, which never contained a line of news and which, instead of attending to municipal affairs, became a propaganda or seeding machine to sow new experimental winds to develop into other whirlwinds of discord and trouble.

There have been men in the world who were considered prophets, seers and philosophers, possessed of almost supernatural foresight into human affairs, because they were able from their grasp of principles tried in the past to forecast the failure of new experiments, put to the same test of experiment in the past and found wanting. It is the part and characteristic of wisdom to reach just results through a process of logical reasoning. He is a dull fool who is unable to learn even in the school of experience, where the rates of tuition are as ruinously dear. Experience has been knocking sense into the heads of some of our reform babies and for this we are glad to say: "The Lord be praised," with a prayer that the good work may go on. Of course, the hardest knocks of experience will not knock sense into the heads of some of them. If all should be converted we would have a millennium, a thing unknown heretofore on earth.

PROTECTION AND WAGES.

When in his pre-election speeches Woodrow Wilson scoffed at the idea that a protective tariff does or can in any way favorably affect the American wage rate he exhibited either a lack of knowledge of economic cause and effect or else a disregard of known and conceded facts. Older and far abler free-traders have not hesitated to recognize what Mr. Wilson disputes. The great free-trader, John Bright, who co-operated with Richard Cobden in the installation of free trade as the policy of Great Britain, did not take the trouble to deny that wages must fall when labor's products are crowded out of the domestic market by cheaper goods from another country. In 1886 Mr. Bright received a letter from a workman of Nottingham, who called his attention to the fact that the lace industry of England was being ruined by German competition, that machinery and factories were being removed from England to Germany, and asked for his opinion as to how the difficulty might be met. Replying, John Bright said:

"If the cause of this be the high wages claimed and paid in your town, unless wages can be raised in other parts it would seem to follow that your trade can only be preserved by a reduction of your wages, or by some other diminution of the cost of manufacturing, if such be possible."

It was as plain as day. Under free trade (or low tariff, which is the same thing practically in the United States with its great natural resources) either wages or some other element of protection must be reduced, or else home production must cease. As a result of the Bright-Cobden free trade Nottingham lost its supremacy in the British lace trade, though wages were heavily reduced.

Discussing the same question, Thomas B. Reed, the great American statesman, illustrated the influence of cheap labor competition as follows:

"If there be two bales of goods side by side, made by the same kind of machinery and with the labor of the human being in both of the same degree of skill, and if the labor of the one bale cost one-half, for example, as much as the other, the other bale can never be sold until the extra cost of the costlier labor is squeezed out of it, providing there is an abundant supply of the cheaper labor (as today in Europe and elsewhere)—the writer of this article with the cheaper labor of England in it meets the bale with the dearer labor of America in it, which will be bought at the cost of production? I leave that problem just there. The sale of England's cheap-labor bale will only be limited by England's production of it." George B. Curtis, author of that much-indebted book, "The Industrial Development of Nations," commenting recently on the Wilsonian contention that protection has nothing to do with wages, said:

"No respectable free-trade economist has ever contended that under free international competition, or under revenue duties, any nation can maintain a higher wage scale than prevails in those countries with which it is thrown into competition. This has been demonstrated by conditions existing in England and the continental Europe. Wages have been constantly rising in Germany, France, Belgium and continental countries (even yet they do not average half American wages—the writer) and declining in England. These nations are all densely populated; are vigorous and prosecuting all branches of manufacturing; are all struggling to outdo each other in foreign markets, hence the inexorable laws of competition force the wages of their labor to a common level. Under free trade, or a tariff for revenue only, such would be the inevitable effect on wages in the United States, and it is utter nonsense for Mr. Wilson to contend to the contrary."

"When Mr. Wilson contends that the protective tariff system exerts no influence on the wages of labor in the United States he displays not only ignorance of the history of his country, but also the necessary scientific operation of a high tariff. It is a historical fact that whenever we have had a high tariff we have had full employment of labor and high wages; and whenever we have had a low tariff our industries have been depressed; there has been diminished employment for labor and low wages."

The unflinching operation of this law is by no means better understood or more keenly realized than by the employers of American labor. They know, if Mr. Wilson does not, that the economical system under which they are guaranteed a preferential position in the American market operates to compel them to pay the highest wages that are paid in the whole world. Also they know that, were it not for the restrictions placed by a protective tariff upon competitive imports from countries where the wage rate is 40 to 70 per cent. lower than the American rate, American wages must come down to the foreign low level. John Bright, free trader, understood perfectly that wages must fall when subjected to the competition of lower production cost. Richard Cobden, free trader, understood it. Both of them favored free trade for the very reason that it would prevent the imposition of a higher wage tax upon British manufacturers. There are few persons of intelligence who do not know that labor's price is governed by the demand for labor and by the price of labor's products. President Wilson seems to be one of the few who have not correctly informed themselves on this subject.

UNCLE WALT.

The Post Philosopher.

The sap has risen in the trees, the buds are breaking forth; no longer do we shake and freeze in raw winds from the north; and everywhere we pilgrims go the harbingers appear, to say there is an end of snow, to hint that spring has come to shake their shoes and try their raked feet. HEARKEN! TWO SEASON PASSES FOR BEST TALENT

THE WEEK. TIK TOK TO TICK TONIGHT.

Majestic Theater Folks Are Busy as Chain Gang.

Debut of Florence Reed at New Morosco.

Two Vaudeville Bills for Variety Lovers.

It was some day and night around the Majestic Theater yesterday and tonight, when the final preparations for the production of "The Tik-Tok

Man" preparatory to the premiere of the piece tonight were under way. With the closing of "Little Miss

Saturday night, forty of the mechanics took possession of the Majestic stage and began the work of completing the little details of assembling the scenic production

"The Tik-Tok Man." This work

was Saturday night and it is venture to say that many of them have not the Majestic stage since.

Robert Brunton, who is responsible for the production, is a most elaborate series of stage

men that have been revealed on a stage, has been in the theater

Friday, catching a little sleep and there where the opportunity presented itself.

Yesterday morning at 9 o'clock the dress and scenic rehearsal began.

There will be another dress and scenic rehearsal this afternoon when the production and everyone connected with it will be tuned up to the exact pitch for the opening of this big extravaganza tonight.

One of the most interesting events of the week is the first appearance

tonight of Florence Reed at the Morosco Theater in Eugene Walter's great play, "The Elixir of Youth."

Miss Reed is unquestionably the most popular actress who has ever appeared on a local stock stage, and her first appearance tonight is especially interesting for the fact that she will be seen in the role of Laura

Murdoch, in which Mr. Walter, in his dramatic tailoring, has fitted her to a nicety.

Miss Reed will have the support of the entire Morosco company and the opening promises to be not only numerically large in attendance, but also brilliant socially.

But with all of these new and attractive events happening at our local playhouses to win the attention of theaters, "The Elixir of Youth" goes right on attracting capacity performances and seems to be the only real substantial success in the whole lot.

Yesterday this farce began the seventh week of its successful career at the Burbank, and there is every indi-

demand for seats that nothing will stop it from literally smashing the remarkable record achieved by Laur-

ette Taylor in "Peg O' My Heart."

Up and Down Broadway. THEATER FOLKS SEE THE TIK TOK MAN FIRST.

BY "ZIP."

I HAVE to take my hat off to three men—namely, Oliver Morosco,

Frank Stammers and Robert Brun-

ton. If anybody had told me that the mass of unfinished scenery I saw carted into the Majestic Theater late

Saturday night could be made to look like a regular, simon-pure, dyed-

in-the-wool production by Sunday night, I would have considered them fit candidates for the foolish factory.

All three above told me that, and I must admit that, secretly, I commenced to believe that the strain of the last few days of "The Tik-Tok

Man of Oz" was telling on them.

But last night at 11:30 I was among those present and I saw—well,

that comes tomorrow, for every newspaper man in the place last night

had to pledge his clothes that he wouldn't reveal what happened until after the opening of this big extra-

travaganza tonight.

Neither Mr. Brunton nor Mr. Stam-

mers have left the Majestic stage

since Saturday night, and it will probably be in the cold gray dawn of the morning when they leave tomorrow.

As I just said, it is out of place to talk about the "Tik-Tok Man" tonight, but if you read this column tomorrow you will know all about it,

or at least what I thought about it,

and how it impressed me, the artist,

who hugged the front row all through the performance.

However, it is not amiss to say something about Florence Reed, who

OF ANXIETY ON BROADWAY.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE

TIMES, March 30. — [Special

Vocal and Instrumental. PEOPLE'S CHORUS FIRST APPEARANCE IN CONCERT.

BY HECTOR ALLIOT.

FOR ITS twenty-first concert the Peoples' Orchestra furnished yesterday afternoon an unusual programme of excellence, at the Auditorium.

In the opening number Gustav

Sybil's comedy overture "Puck" was given as a specimen of new native

music. It happens to be a very delightful composition, a la Francaise, humorous and clever throughout,

brilliant and colorful.

Since its author is a German-American musician long connected with the Boston Symphony, its presentation

added a peculiar interest as a specimen of the brotherhood in the arts.

Mozart's celebrated "Concerto for Clarinet" was played with such remarkable efficiency that it is reply to urgent applause, Maestro Leborg-

net called for its repetition by the orchestra and J. Raimondi, a very capable clarinet soloist, who has recently come here from Rome, Italy.

In orchestral presentations the audience has seldom the opportunity of fully appreciating the excellence of work done by specialists whose personality as performers is merged

in the ensemble, as must be.

The value of instrumental units is also seldom realized.

This concerto composed by Mozart,

who was specially fond of the clarinet, and who wrote it for the purpose of demonstrating that instrumental possibilities, is too seldom heard

PIRATES CABLE SPEEDING CARS.

Knights of the Road Riddle Auto With Bullets.

Trip Up Victims With Steel Rope Across Highway.

Rob Occupants in Leisurely Fashion in Meadow.

Read pirates who stop traffic with a cable and loot their victims at their leisure, introduced themselves to the auto-riding public Saturday night on the Redondo road when they held up a machine containing C. E. Halliwell, No. 6432 Ninth avenue, and his two guests, and robbed them. Then they held up a second machine, ordered the occupants out, and used it to make their escape.

According to the reports made to the sheriff's office yesterday, Charles E. Halliwell, a prosperous dealer in automobile accessories, was returning from Redondo Beach late Saturday night when his automobile suddenly bounced into a cable that had been stretched across the highway near Wilmington in an out-of-the-way place, where the cars do not attain too high a speed to make such a method of detaining them too dangerous.

The wheels of Halliwell's machine bounced into the heavy wire cable, then the car sprang down the road for more than twenty feet. Three men with flashlights stepped from the gloom and ordered the party to hold up hands.

There seemed to have been some confusion as to what the pirates ordered, for no one elevated his or her hands, and the head pirate, a grim old mustachioed rogue with a brace of lustrous pistols on his thighs, pulled both of his weapons into action and drove a half-dozen bullets into the hood of the car. Straightway did Halliwell and his friends interpret the orders, climbing agilely to the ground and holding their hands aloft in most approved style under such conditions.

The pirates chuckled softly, as such men do when things are going merrily and fortune promises flush. One of the men was ordered to sit by the machine and watch it while the three occupants were led off into an adjacent meadow for a comfortable and leisurely offering of their valuables. The occupants included Halliwell, another man and a woman. From Halliwell was taken $65, from the other man $50, from both, gold watches, while the woman of the party gave up a vanity box, a couple of bracelets, and a ring of considerable value.

Their automobile had been incapacitated by the fusillade from the head pirate. The man who was left at the road, watching the net that was still set for more automobiles, no sooner caught the signal that the search for money had been successfully conducted, than he stopped another automobile party plying along the road at a hurry-home rate.

He ordered the occupants of the second car to alight, and array themselves in humble order beside the car to await the return of the victorious pirate chieftain and his assistant. They came back in advance of the victims, unlocked their cable at both ends, threw it into the second car, and all piled in and left, with Halliwell and his robbed party around their bullet-wrecked machine, offering consolation to the party with the stolen car.

The three men are now to banditry in Southern California, introducing new business methods in the trade by their use of a cable in stopping their victims.

Deputy Sheriffs Heacock and Anderson were detailed to investigate the case yesterday, but reported no developments last night.

HIGH MASONIC OFFICERS HUMBLE SELVES TO SERVE.

WITH their proud official heads humbled in the service of their followers, the Grand Chapter officers of the Royal Arch Masons of California will tonight conduct the degree work of the Royal Arch, the first time officers of such high standing ever performed the duties hitherto always assigned to those of lesser rank.

Why the high dignitaries have so chosen is kept secret among them and H. D. Lore, who has been appointed Grand Marshal for the occasion by Grand High Priest T. J. Trenchard, is that they find the occasion merits the sacrifice of personal and official dignity and every one is willing to perform the duties the ritual assigns him.

The class of three honored ones who are to receive the work at such high hands at the Masonic temple at Pico and Figueroa streets tonight consists of Harry Turner Watson, Theodore Adam Barth and John Tyler Brown, and it is expected that at least 200 Royal Arch Masons out of the 6000 in the ninth district, which consists of all Southern California, will be present, for to the entire number Marshal Lore and his secretaries have sent special and urgent invitations by mail.

Let not one member who can attend remain away, at the peril of missing something wonderful—never seen before and perhaps never to be seen again—says Marshal Lore.

After the degree work there will be a reception and a banquet, at which there will be speeches, and the another mysterious happening is promised by Marshal Lore.

What is it?

Ah, that's the secret! The secret is "K.S.H.T.W.S.R.T."

The Grand Charter officers are: H. D. Lore, Marshal; Leo V. Youngworth, Grand High Priest; Harry A. Croft, Grand Lecturer; C. J. Willert, Past Grand High Priest; E. B. Spencer, Grand Scribe; William H. Gaynor, Grand Captain of the Host; Samuel E. Burke, Grand Chaplain; Harry J. Knox, R. B. Powell and B. B. Cartwright, Grand Committeemen; W. E. Oliver, Harry Horn, Harry Bradford, Deputy Grand Lecturers.

PROPOSED SANTA FE BRANCH.

Officials Decline to Discuss Matter, but Land for Station Site Is Being Purchased.

PORTERVILLE, March 29.—Despite the refusal of officials of the railroad to discuss the story, there appears to be little doubt that agents of the Santa Fe Railroad are purchasing rights of way and land for station sites for a projected branch line to run from Cutler, just south of Fresno, south to Porterville.

Within the past few days, Ed Chaslar, traffic freight agent; J. R. Haydn, industrial agent; L. L. Hibbard, general manager; John J. Byrne, general passenger agent, and C. A. Moore, chief engineer, of the road, have covered the district to be penetrated by the proposed line, interviewing property owners and closing options for land.

Judging from the property which has been sought, the new line will run from Cutler, through to Woodlake district, thence almost parallel to the Visalia electric line to Exeter and thence due south through Lindsay to Porterville. It is stated that the eventual intention is for the construction of a line to Bakersfield via the east side, although for the present, the road will go no further than Por-

ECZEMA IS EASILY CURED BY POSLAM

To be rid of skin eruptions, pimples, etc., and to quickly clear an inflamed complexion of red nose, use Poslam as soon as the trouble is noted.

If eczema, acne, barbers' itch or any stubborn disease afflicts, cure it without extended treatment through the timely application of Poslam. This perfect remedy heals the skin under all conditions more rapidly and more effectively than anything yet devised. Itching stops at once. Use Poslam now and prove its merit.

The daily use of POSLAM SOAP, an absolutely pure soap medicated with Poslam, is of inestimable benefit to all whose skin is subject to eruptive troubles. Soothes tender skin; ideal for baby's bath.

All druggists sell Poslam (price, 50 cents) and Poslam Soap (price, 55 cents.) For free sample, write to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West 25th Street, New York City.

A Big Opportunity for the Average Man S-A-N P-E-D-R-O

The Only Deep Water Harbor of Los Angeles

Thirty, thirty-five and forty feet of deep water and ample dock facilities are attracting a world of freight and traffic right at San Pedro now. Never before so much activity—never before such preparation—never so many buildings, homes and business blocks, under construction as now. Docks and warehouses—tracks and boulevards—streets and public utilities planned and under way to make a city here.

Investigate the Harbor for Yourself

Just take a day and see if you can't see what others think is the one big opportunity of this great Southwest.

The chance to make a small investment now and see it grow in equal proportion to the early day Los Angeles opportunity.

The finest natural location for a city is at San Pedro—the old is passing—the new is pressing forward and soon the story of big things will be repeated right under your own eyes.

The Stately Palos Verdes Hills—with level pretty mesas overlooking the Pacific—the foundation of San Pedro is without a question the finest raw material for city building in all of Southern California.

Just Be Our Guest for an Hour Any Day

We want to show you the city, the docks—the preparation for world traffic now going on.

We want you to get acquainted with the possibilities and probabilities as they appear right now.

We want the opportunity to show you (without asking you to buy) the one best—the finest and the only thoroughly improved tract in all the harbor district.

Harbor View Addition

—Just Six Months Old Today—

A story of progress is told in its development—streets made—concrete walks (5 ft.) concrete curbs and gutters all laid in accordance with city specifications—gas—water—electric lights—telephones—with buildings already completed and occupied today.

The future fine apartment and hotel district of San Pedro—a view of the surrounding district unequalled anywhere—a sight you surely ought to see if you would know what opportunity has in store for you—make no mistake—buy harbor property—but first of all see Harbor View Addition.
